PREFACE.

In issuing this, our first number of Brill's Receipt Book, we aim to make it brief, comprehensive and practical. A general, rather than a scientific arrangement has been adopted, as the object of the work is popular and universal, and though useful to men of science, it is more especially addressed to practical persons, heads of families, and the public at large. There are few persons who will not find on looking over its pages, some article that will interest them, and be of some use and advantage to them. The sources from which the materials of the work have been gathered, render it deserving of the utmost confidence; a large portion having been derived from personal experience. The publisher therefore presents to the mistresses and managers of domestic economy, the various classes of experimental artisans and men of business, both operative and traders, a volume which will be universally admitted to be superior to every preceding collection of receipts for general utility.

NOTICE.

The first issue of our book being incomplete, the recipes only taking up half of the alphabet. All those desiring the balance of the work can get a copy gratuitously from any of the advertisers in the book, in the course of a few months, when we expect to issue the second edition.

ANTIDOTES

AND

TREATMENTS FOR POISONS.

Poisoning invariably demands prompt treatment, and every family should be prepared with the proper remedies, which should be used according to the directions herein given, until your Physician arrives, who must be at once summoned, as to know the proper mode of procedure, in such cases is of the utmost importance. When it is ascertained that a poison has been swallowed, emetics must at once be given, unless vomiting has taken place spontaneously. Articles generally kept in the house, such as Ground Mustard, Alum, Salt, Sulphate Zinc, &c., may be given; a large tea-spoonful of Mustard in a tumbler of warm water, which should be followed with a like amount of Salt. Should the first not prove successful, Powdered Alum, in doses of half-ounce with Syrup, Sulphate of Zinc, in doses of ten grains; the above quantities can be repeated every ten minutes, until at least three doses have been given. Vomiting can frequently be induced by tickling the throat with the finger, or the feather end of a quill.

When vomiting has taken place, the stomach must be protected by freely administering demulcent, mucilaginous or oleaginous drinks, such as White of Eggs, Linseed or Olive Oil, melted Butter or Lard, Flaxseed, Slippery Elm, Gum Arabic or Barley Water, Milk, Starch, Wheat Flour, or Arrow Root mixed with Water, &c.

LADIES DESIRE WHAT MEN ADMIRE.

THIS LITTLE THING IS BEAUTY.

What do we say is beautiful? A transparent complexion and a luxuriant head of hair. What will produce these? Morrison's Genuine Pine Tar Soap. It is impregnated with exotics of the mildest and most balsamic nature, and is warranted perfectly innocent and free from mineral and all other pernicious admixtures, and is selected by the Ladies and public in general in preference to any other Toilet Soap. For the softness and delicacy which it induces to the hand and face, its capability of soothing irritation and removing unsightly eruptions, rendering it indispensable to every toilet table, this Soap has no equal. It preserves the complexion fair, the skin soft, flexible and healthy; it removes all dandruff; preserves the hair soft and silky, and prevents it from falling off. It cures Scald Head, Sunburn, Pimples on the Face, Salt Rheum, fresh Cuts or Wounds of all kinds, Ring Worm, Tetter, Itch, Cracked or Chaped hands. A solution in warm water will destroy fungus, or proud flesh, and rapidly heal old sores and indolent ulcers. For the Itch, sponge the whole system with the soap two or three nights on going to bed, and let it dry in. After that wash with the soap and water.

This Soap, by its cleansing, healing and tonic properties, will soon restore the pores of the skin to their natural healthy condition. For this purpose, it should be used in a bath, or applied with a sponge and water; after which rub briskly with a towel. Scrofulous and consumptive persons will add years of pleasure to their lives by using this Soap freely in their baths, twice a week.

Its singular but not unpleasant odor is the result of the peculiar combination of PURE PINE TAR, with other ingredients used by the ancients, and celebrated among the medical faculty for their healing and tonic properties.

Everybody knows that Pine Tar is one of the most healing and soothing remedies. Our best Physicians recommend all mothers to use this Soap on their children in preference to any other. All respectable dealers keep it, or will get it for you, if you call for it. Be sure you get

WORMS.

HOW TO EXPEL THEM.

BRILL'S WORM CONFECTIONS come before the public not as something new, but as an improvement on what has already been introduced.

Living in an age of improvement we ought to encourage everything that leads to advancement in medicine, as well as any other science. The Lozenges are composed entirely of vegetable ingredients that are used by the most prominent practitioners in the country, by combining these with pure white sugar, and moulding them into proper shape, they make an agreeable, harmless and yet

VERY EFFECTIVE VERMIFUGE.

Brill's Worm Confections will undoubtedly supercede all the old nauseous vermifuges that have been a terror to children for years, and they will hail with delight a medicine so pleasant to take. In fact, they need not know that it is medicine as it is almost impossible to distinguish them from the best Bon Bons. Ask for Brill's and give them a trial.

PAIN ERADICATOR,

FOR THE CURE OF

NEURALGIA,

IN ANY FORM, AND

ALL NERVOUS PAINS,

Is pronounced by the most Scientific Medical Men

THE GREATEST NEUROTIC AND RELIEF FOR PAIN

ON THIS CONTINENT.

There is no remedy in the country that deserves greater praise than the above efficient preparation. Long before it was introduced to the public it was subjected to the most rigid tests, that its efficacy in curing certain affections might be determined, and in every instance it has proven reliable. At the earnest solicitations of those who have been cured, the inventor was induced to send it forth upon its great mission of relieving suffering humanity; as if by magic, it spread in every direction, performing the most wonderful cures.

Physicians prescribe it for their Patients daily,

And attach virtues to it which it was never thought to possess. We subjoin a few testimonials selected at random from the hundreds continually coming in, the parties all being prominent and well known. By referring to the gentlemen whose names are signed, the most skeptical will be convinced that for

NEURALGIA, NERVOUS HEADACHE, TOOTHACHE,

And all pains arising from a derangement of the nervous system, it is infallible. It can also be used internally for

And will always give relief without injury to the general health.

phurous Gas is absorbed by the Cider; then return the rest of the Cider free from sediment; shake together and you have a Cider that will keep for any length of time.

Cider Wine.

Take Good Cider made from sound, ripe Apples, (sour ones preferred), let it ferment from one to three weeks, as the weather is warm or cool; when it has attained a lively fermentation, add to each gallon according to its Acidity, from half to two pounds of White Sugar, then let the whole ferment, until it possesses precisely the taste which it is desired should be permanent. In this condition pour out a quart of the Cider, and add for each gallon of Cider ¼ oz. of Sulphite of Lime, mixing the Powder thoroughly with the quart of Cider, then return the whole to the barrel, agitate briskly for a few moments and let settle, the fermentation will cease at once. When it has become clear draw off carefully and bottle, cork loosely so as to prevent the bottles bursting, should it again begin to ferment. This Cider will keep a long time, and be equal in taste to Wine.

Cider, To Preserve.

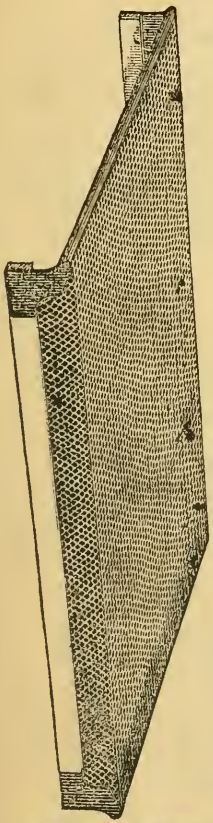

Add ten ounces of Sulphite of Lime to every barrel of Cider mixing the Lime first with a little Cider, shake together well, or take one pound of White Mustard Seed, put it into a bag and hang it into the bunghole of the barrel; it gives the Cider a pleasant spicy taste and arrests fermentation.

Cider, Artificial.

To twenty gallons of Water add fifteen pounds of White or Brown Sugar, one-half pound of Tartaric Acid; then boil two pounds of Dried Apples and add the juice, put into a keg or barrel; makes a good Cider and answers well for a summer drink or for Fever Patients.

The New Comfort.

A PERFECT SPRING BED WITHOUT SPRINGS, A MATTRESS WITHOUT STRAW OR HUSKS'

THE ATTENTION OF ALL Housekeepers, all Hotel Proprietors, all managers of Public Institutions, all the Medical Profession is called to the

Woven Wire Mattress,

Which for cleanliness, durability, comfort and health, is without a rival.

It is in fact a complete appliance for all purposes of rest and sleep, combining all the advantages of a most perfect Spring Bed, and the usual Under Mattress in one article, while it has none of the objections of either. All persons interested in this matter, all who are dissatisfied with their present sleeping accommodations, and all new buyers, generally, when considering the important question.

What shall I Sleep on?

Are desired to read the following pre-eminent advantages of the Wire Mattress, and also to give the best of personal experience.

First. Its ease and comfort.
Second. Its cleanliness.
Third. Its perfect noiselessness.
Fourth. Its adaption to the form of the body.
Fifth. Its durability.
Sixth. Its remarkable elasticity.

The question may indeed be well asked, why such special attention is called to this new article, with so many appliances for sleeping purposes already in use. The answer is, that the WIRE MATTRESS supplies a want which has long been felt for a clean, noiseless elastic bed, which can be used with a thick mattress in winter, if desired, and a thin covering only in summer, which could be easily aired, and in which all smell and musty odor would be entirely avoided This pressing want the WIRE MATTRESS does supply.

AS A CURE FOR

NEURALGIA.

In regard to the efficacy of the PAIN ERADICATOR we refer to the following Certificates from well known and reliable persons:—

NEW YORK, Nov. 22d, 1869.

MR. W. H. BRILL.—Dear Sir:—Over a year ago you will probably remember presenting me with a bottle of your Pain Eradicator, which I had no use for, and in consequence presented it to a lady friend of mine in Philadelphia, who suffered fearfully from nervous headache, and at times was perfectly prostrate; she had no other remedy by her but your medicine, and took a dose, which acted as a perfect charm; and for several times feeling it coming on, took a dose which quite prevented it; on giving it to two other friends affected in a similar way, it had precisely the same happy effect. I am glad to inform you of its good effect, and any reference or certificate that will be of service to you I shall be glad to endorse, and would thank you to send a large bottle to Mrs. G. B. C——, Chestnut St., Philadelphia, as soon as possible, and bill to me. By so doing you will greatly oblige

Yours, truly, H. S. PILKINGTON,
Drug Broker, Cedar St., N. Y.

ALLEGHENY, Feb. 14, 1870.

W. H. BRILL, ESQ.—Sir:—I am prepared in confidence to speak of your Pain Eradicator in the most flattering terms, as a cure for Neuralgia in any form, and especially for nervous headache, from which I have been a sufferer for years. Accidentally happening into your store I was induced to try it for an attack that had given me great pain for several days. In less than ten minutes after applying the remedy and taking a teaspoonful internally, I was, to my surprise, entirely relieved. I cheerfully advise all of my friends, and the general public, to try one bottle and they will find my assertions correct. J. WHITE, No. 6 Shield St.
Gen. Agent for Tuttle's Elliptic Heat Valve.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 10, 1869.

MESSRS. W. H. BRILL & CO.—Gentlemen:—I have been using your valuable Pain Eradicator in my family for some time, and can recommend it highly to persons afflicted with Neuralgia, as I have had immediate relief after several applications, when suffering the most excruciating pain in the head, from frequent attacks of the malady. I also cheerfully bear testimony to its efficacy in speedily relieving nervous headache, having frequently seen its curative effects on one of my own family. D. S. DIFFENBACHER,

DROWNING.

Resuscitation of the Drowned.

Insufflation of the lungs must take place, which can be done by introducing a tube of any kind, even a tobacco-pipe well washed, into a nostril, and both nostrils being pressed against the tube; the mouth should be stopped by the operator's hand, and he should then blow with sufficient force into the tube to drive air into the lungs; the chest is then seen to rise. By removing the tube and the hand from the mouth expiration will spontaneously take place, and it may be aided by the open hand applied with moderate pressure to the lower part of the chest. This manœuvre being repeated ten or twelve times the heart is felt to beat, if the patient had at the beginning of the operation any vitality in him.

Dropsy, Cure for.

Take the inner bark of the Common Elder, a sufficient quantity put into a bottle and add Hard Cider sufficient to make a strong infusion. The dose for an adult should be one ounce three or four times a day, improvement will at once be perceptible; should the patient be feeble give with the above, Tinture of Iron and Sulphate of Quinine.

Juniper Berries	½ ounce.

Ginger Root	½ "

Enamels.

Usually formed of Glass, colored with Metallic Oxides, and applied in a thin stratum to brightly polished metallic surfaces, on which they can be fused by the flame of a lamp urged by the blow-pipe or by the heat of a furnace, and in cooling, forms a vitreous varnish of any shade or color desired. The preparation of Enamels being entirely dependent on chemistry,—"any person wishing it can get recipes for any shade by applying to the author of this work."

Files, To Clean or Re-cut.

This method was invented by Prof. Platt after great expense and trouble, and is the more valuable.

Dissolve four ounces of Saleratus in a quart of Water, and boil the files in it for half an hour, then wash and dry them; now have ready in a stout vessel one quart of Rain Water, to which you have added four ounces of Sulphuric Acid, immerse the files in this preparation and let them remain from six to twelve hours, according to the fineness or coarseness of the files, then remove, wash clean and dry quickly, and put a little Sweet Oil on them to cover the surface. Files may be re-cut in this manner at least three times, making in all more wear than it took to wear out the file at first. The preparation can be used as long as you can see action taking place on putting the files in; keep well covered when not in use.

Frosted Feet.

Soak them in Cold Water before going to bed, and bathe the parts affected freely with Pain Eradicator and it will reduce the swelling, take out the soreness, and your feet will get well.

Eye Water.

Sulphate of Zinc	2 grains.
Tannin	5 "
Wine of Opium	½ drachm.
Rose Water	2 ounces.

Mix and bathe the eyes freely every morning, the first thing after rising and before going to bed in the evening.

WORMS.

SYMPTOMS AND TREATMENT.

Worms afflict the human race of all ages, from earliest childhood to advanced life, though more frequently the young, they as a rule depend on a morbid condition of the Digestive Organs, caused by unwholesome food, inpure air, or depraved constitution.

The general symptoms are enlarged and swollen abdomen, itching at the anus and nose, headache, foul breath, gnawing pain in the stomach, impaired and irregular appetite, sometimes ravenous, and again little or none, bowels often loose or constipated, peevishness, disturbed sleep, grinding of the teeth, &c. No set of symptoms can positively be depended on, but the above are most reliable. Worms are often the bane of a child's existence and prolific source of the numerous diseases which imperil the lives of Children; their presence in the intestinal canal is the source of great irritation, which operating on the delicate nervous organization of the child, so keenly alive to every morbid impression, gives rise oftentimes to the most violent disturbances of the nervous system, such as Fits, Convulsions, Epilepsy, Saint Vitus Dance, &c.

Mothers should watch with great care the earliest symptoms indicating the presence of worms, and by the use of dislodge them before the health of the child is seriously impaired or its life endangered. Brill's Confections being perfectly harmless, mothers should use them at once where there is the least suspicion of worms. This valuable remedy is purely vegetable and can do no harm. Inquire of your Druggist or Grocer for BRILL'S WORM CONFECTIONS, and do not let them impose on you with worthless substitutes.

Eggs, How to Preserve Them.

For every three gallons of Water put in one pint of Fresh Slacked Lime, and the same amount of Common Salt. Mix well and put into a barrel which should be half full of this fluid, then put in your Eggs carefully so as not to break any, then cover the vessel over with a lid, on which also put Lime and Salt; this process will keep Eggs from two to four years if properly managed.

Another Method.

Dissolve some Gum Shellac in Alcohol so as to make a thin varnish; give each Egg a coat, after they are perfectly dry, pack in on Bran or Sawdust with their points downward, in such a manner that they cannot shift about should it be necessary. For Hatching wash the varnish off with a little Alcohol.

Egg Flip.

Beer or Ale one pint, three Eggs, Sugar two ounces, Nutmeg and Ginger sufficient; break the Eggs into one-half of the Beer, add the Sugar and beat well together, then place into a warmer and heat to nearly boiling, stirring all the time. Next add the other portion of the Beer and Spices and mix well; some prefer a glass of Spirits instead of Beer. Care must be taken not to let it boil, if it should, the Eggs will separate.

Fainting, Treatment for.

Free exposure to the air, baring neck and chest, cold douche, stimulants applied with friction, irritating agents to the nostrils, as Veratria, dilute Ammonia, etc.

In order to clear the throat, place the person gently on the face with one wrist under the forehead, that all fluid and the tongue itself may fall forward and leave the entrance into the windpipe free, imitate respiration by turning the body completely on the side, and a little beyond, then again on the face, and so on alternately fifteen times in a minute no more.

Avoid immediate removal of the patient as it involves a dangerous loss of time, also the bellows, or any forcing instrument and all rough treatment; the limbs may be rubbed upward with firm pressure and with energy, in order to return venous blood to the heart.

FALLING, and severely bruising any part of the body, often causes great trouble, soreness and swelling. If the parts are freely bathed with Pain Eradicator two or three times during the day and before going to bed, the swelling and soreness will subside, and little inconvenience will be experienced.

Furniture, to Polish.

Take two ounces of Tripoli, powdered, add enough Water to cover it, take a piece of white flannel, lay it over a piece of cork or rubber and proceed to polish the varnish, always wetting it with the Tripoli and Water; when you have a fair even gloss, (which will be known by wiping a part with a wet sponge), then take a bit of Mutton Suet and Fine Flour and clean the work.

Fruit, General Directions for Preserving it.

The first thing to be done in successful conservation, is the selection of the fruit, it must be ripe, but not mellow or stale, of good size and fair surface. The next thing is the sugar, which should be the best white lump sugar obtainable, perfectly dry and destitute of foreign odors; frequently a musty smell may be detected in sugar, or sometimes the smell of carbon oil, &c., by being placed in the vicinity of where articles of a strong odor have been kept. The fruit and sugar being selected, the nature of the fruit should be well considered, it looks well when put up whole, but if in order to do so, they require boiling until the pectine is changed to jelly, and the fruit is so cooked as to drive off the delicate flavors, you have paid dearly for the privilege of having your fruit whole.

Apples should be quartered, unless very small. Pears should be halved, the little seckels may be put up whole. Peaches may be put up whole or halved, with the pits removed, the last is much better, as the prussic acid in the pits gives otherwise too strong a flavor to the fruit. All fruits having thick dense rinds should have the rind removed or punctured. Puncturing may be done by setting a number of fine needles in a piece of pine wood, which serves as a handle; the use of an ordinary fork is barbarous. The fruit should be peeled or punctured the shortest time possible before

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY

OF THE

PAIN ERADICATOR.

It stands to reason that no professional man would allow his name to be used in connection with a medicine, unless he is perfectly satisfied with its curative properties, and perfect safety; nor would any one dare to publish a certificate, which was not genuine or "Bona fide," in a community where the gentlemen are so well known. The public can rest assured that our recommendations are not gotten up as an advertising medium, but to convince the skeptic that the Pain Eradicator has given entire satisfaction wherever it has been introduced, and that the profession of medicine sanctions its use.

Greenville, Pa., August 8th, 1868.

Having my attention drawn to the medical virtues of Brill's Pain Eradicator, which is now eliciting so much praise from professional men, and persons who have used it, that I concluded to give it a trial in my practice, being opposed to so-called proprietary medicines, and feeling skeptical as to its effects, I watched the result of the first application with considerable doubt, but was agreeably surprised when I saw the immediate relief which it afforded the patient, who had been suffering from a severe attack of Neuralgia. Soon after I had occasion to use it in cases of Cramp, Colic, Diarrhœa, &c., with the same good result. I now use it for the various diseases which the preparation claims to cure, and cheerfully recommend it to the profession and public as a reliable remedy. Respectfully, R. E. BREINER, M. D.

Messrs. W. H. Brill & Co.—Gentlemen:—Permit me to bear testimony to the efficacy of Brill's Pain Eradicator in removing all forms of the Neuroses or Neuralgic affections, it has been my duty to prescribe it in. Pain Eradicator will soon be a household word having more certain effect than any other remedy extant. Its soothing and anodyne properties seem to excell all that is claimed for it. I can recommend it to the profession and the suffering public as a speedy restorer to health.

Respectfully, S. STEVENSON, M. D.

Apothecary and Druggist, New Bedford, Pa.

Freeport, Pa., June 14th, 1869.

Messrs. W. H. Brill & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have for some time past used your Pain Eradicator in my practice, and find it an excellent remedy, and in all respects fully up to what it professes to be.

Respectfully yours, A. G. THOMAS, M. D.

it is put into the sugar, otherwise it will become discolored, therefore the sugar should be first prepared; if, however, fruit when peeled is kept under cold water its color will not change.

If hermetically sealed jars are used, only enough sugar is needed to make the fruit palatable; this should be put into a brass kettle with a little water, and allowed to melt slowly. And then the heat should be raised gradually to nearly the boiling point. The fruit properly prepared is next put into the jars, from which it should not again emerge until wanted for the table. The amount of sugar proportioned to the fruit by weight, established by previous experiments, should then, after being cooled, be divided as equally as possible between the jars, and the remaining space nearly filled with pure water. The jars should then be placed in a kettle containing cold water, pebbles being used to prevent contact with the bottom and consequent cracking of the jars, and the whole raised as quickly as possible to the boiling point and kept there about ten minutes. Too long boiling alters the taste and color of the fruit. It should be borne in mind that all the heating is intended to do, is to expel the air, not cook the fruit. Whatever space is left in the jars should now be filled up with hot water, and they should be immediately sealed, now place in a dry, cool, and dark place. All these requisites must be observed if you desire perfection, the action of light discolors the fruit. Heat promotes fermentation; dampness, strange as it may appear, also favors a sort of sub-fermentation which generally deteriorates quality. Fruit put up strictly according to the above directions will keep for years, and retain its original taste and flavor.

PAIN ERADICATOR

AS A

RELIABLE FAMILY MEDICINE.

Is wanted in every household, something that can be depended on in case of accident, for instance a fall, a sprain, a bruise, sudden attack of Cholera Morbus, or even Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Cramp, Colic, &c., the doctor may be a good ways off, and the sufferer dies for the want of prompt relief. If you have a bottle of Pain Eradicator in the house you can at once apply it and find immediate benefit. In all the above named cases the directions are full and explicit on every bottle, so that any one can see how to use it. Read the subjoined recommendations:—

North Sewickley, September 9, 1869.

Messrs. W. H. Brill & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have used your Pain Eradicator in my family for some time, and it has really proven a wonderful remedy. I have given it to persons who suffered the most terrible pains in the back, Neuralgic pains in the head, Toothache, Sore Throat, &c., and the result was surprising. In the many cases where I used and recommended it it universally gave relief. In fact I do not know of a single instance where it failed. Being a pleasant clean preparation, containing no grease or stain, agreeable to taste and smell, I know of no remedy which I can recommend with the same confidence.

Very truly yours, ——— SAMUEL C. CLOW.

Mr. Thomas Scott, Allegheny, had been suffering for some time from Chronic Diarrhœa, accompanied by severe cholic and griping; he had tried numerous remedies without obtaining relief; he finally tried the Pain Eradicator, and to his astonishment, the first few doses cured him, he now uses it regularly himself and in his family, considering it the only safe and reliable remedy for these maladies.

Mr. W. H. Parke, Tobacconist, No 75 Federal street, Allegheny, has been using the Pain Eradicator for Neuralgia and various other pains and aches, and asserts that he would never be without it, and invariably recommends it to his friends who may be in need of a liniment.

Mr. J. F. Neely, Druggist, No. 371 Rebecca street, Allegheny, has been selling the Pain Eradicator for some time, and says he never knew of any instance where he sold it but what it gave entire satisfaction, and now invariably recommends it to his customers.

Allegheny, Pa.

Messrs. W. H. Brill & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have used your valuable Pain Eradicator with the best result for Neuralgia and other pains, and cheerfully recommend it to the public.

S. T. McCLELLAND, No. 117 Federal St.

Mix with one and a half pints of Rain Water, this mixture will show the twist; in order to use this preparation right, plug both ends of the barrel, and let the sticks stick out a little to handle by, then clean them well with quicklime; give it one coat and set into a warm place until a red rust is formed, then card it down, repeat the process until you have the desired color.

Gun Stocks, Polish for.

Gum Shellac	10 ounces.
" Sandrac	1 "
Venice Turpentine	1 drachm.
Alcohol, 98 per cent	1 gallon.

After using a few coats of this, you can have a German Polish by leaving out eight ounces of Shellac, a coat or two of the polish makes an improvement on the varnish, and does not require the rubbing that the varnish does to give it the gloss.

Grafting Wax.

Bees Wax	1 pound.
Bals. Fir	½ "
Vermillion	½ "

Melt the wax, and add the rest, pour it out on tissue paper.

Grease Heel and Scratches on Horses.

Take Lye made of wood ashes, and boil White Oak Bark in it until it is quite strong of lye and bark ooze, when cold it is ready for use; first wash off the horse's legs with Castile Soap or Dish Water, when dry, apply the mixture by means of a swab on a long stick, so that the animal can not injure you, as the smart will make him furious, this process must be repeated at least once a day until a cure is affected; the hair will come off, but will soon grow in, when the animal is well; to promote their growth, make a salve by stewing Sweet Elder Bark in old Bacon, then add sufficient Rosin to make a salve, about one quarter of a pound of Rosin to every pound of Oil. For other diseases, see "Horses."

Dissolve the glue as above, and add the acid while hot, stirring briskly.

Headache.

According to pathologists, headache arises either from a sympathy with the stomach, or from a weakness or exhaustion of the power of the Encephalon; the former may be called sympathetic, and the latter nervous headache, the treatment of the first should consist in restoring the healthy action of the stomach by the administration of aperients, and the use of proper food and exercise. Nervous headaches are relieved by nervous tonics and stimulants, as Peruvian Bark, Cascarilla, Columbo, Gentian, Camphor, &c., or apply the Pain Eradicator by means of a soft silk cloth, and take fifteen drops in water every hour or two which will invariably afford relief. A cup of strong coffee or tea often acts like a charm; silence, darkness and repose are also powerful remedies, alike suitable to every variety of headache.

PAIN ERADICATOR

AS A CURE FOR

RHEUMATISM.

We give the names of some of our most prominent citizens to substantiate our assertion, prefering others to speak for us, as we do not claim or wish to infer that we can cure a certain disease, unless we have sufficient and good evidence to endorse what we say, the original letters and certificates can be seen at our office, which we show to parties with pleasure, fully aware that the public is often deceived with spurious and worthless so-called certificates.

[From his Honor the Mayor of Allegheny City.]

Allegheny, Pa., August 12th, 1868.

Messrs. W. H. Brill & Co.—Gentlemen:—I take occasion to volunteer my testimony in favor of your valuable Pain Eradicator. I have used it myself for Rheumatism, and in my family for numberless pains and aches, with entire satisfaction, and I hereby freely assure you that it has always accomplished what it claims to do. Yours very truly, SIMON DRUM.

Messrs. W. H. Brill & Co.—Gentlemen:—Your Pain Eradicator has cured me of Rheumatism, which had given me the most excruciating pain at intervals for nearly three years; my joints, especially those of my feet, were dreadfully swollen at times, so that I could scarcely walk; my shoulders also pained me and gave me great trouble; by the aid of your valuable remedy I have been entirely cured. Respectfully yours,

Mrs. Capt. G. W. REED,
59 Taylor avenue, Allegheny, Pa.

Sewickley, Pa., Feb. 1st, 1870.

Mr. W. H. Brill:—I have suffered severely for several months from Inflammatory Rheumatism, for which I could obtain no relief, although I used a great variety of medicines; I was finally induced to try your Pain Eradicator, which produced the most gratifying results, in less than two weeks I was entirely cured, and now suffer no inconvenience whatever.

Very truly yours, CHARLES SEVIN.

Allegheny, Pa., November 14th, 1868.

Messrs. W. H. Brill & Co.—Gentlemen:—I had been suffering for years with periodical attacks of Neuralgia in my head, for which I seldom found relief until I used your Pain Eradicator; I also used it for a Rheumatic pain in my arm and effected a speedy cure. Respectfully yours, WM. T. MOOREHEAD,
Principal of the First Ward School, Allegheny.

NEURALGIA.

ITS CAUSES AND TREATMENT.

NEURALGIA is a term of recent origin, employed to designate pain of a purely nervous character. The pain is of every possible degree and variety of character, but is generally severe, acute, and more or less darting or lancinating. It is sometimes described as piercing. tearing, aching, burning, tingling, benumbing, &c., and language has been ransacked to find terms strong and expressive enough to represent at once its intensity and extreme diversity. The pain may either be confined to the course of a single nerve and its ramifications, or may be diffused without reference to such limits, and sometimes darts rapidly from one point to another, between which there is no immediate nervous communication.

In relation to the condition of the system associated with neuralgia; it may be perfectly healthy, or in various degrees debilitated; it may be plethoric or enemic. The patient may also be subject to a variety of diseases that may have great bearing on the complaint.

A vast diversity of remedies have been used with various results, the main point should always be to ascertain if possible, whether the organic functions are all in a healthy condition. Dyspepsia, acidity of the stomach; the immoderate use of strong coffee, tea, tobacco, alcoholic drinks, &c., may be the source of the mischief, and can with a little care be detected; the first named should be treated properly, and the latter abstained from; the bowels must be kept open with cathartics, and the general system kept in as good a condition as possible, or take when the attack comes on, a teaspoonful of PAIN ERADICATOR diluted with water, internally, and bathe the parts affected freely, relief is sure to follow.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION IS WORTH MORE THAN A POUND OF CURE.

The PANACEA will not only cure old standing and malignant complaints, but is one of the best preventives of such disorders ever offered to the world.

This Medicine is highly recommended for all manner of chronic or old standing complaints, such as Scrofula, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, &c. SCIRRHUS OR CANCER AND CANCEROUS TUMORS may be often removed from the system by the purifying effect of this medicine, if it is taken before they get a deep-seated hold upon the system. in the tub, melt and add more until the process is finished; then put the Cream into glasses, and place them in a mixture of Salt and Ice until wanted for use. Before sending them to the table, dip the outside of the glass into luke-warm water and wipe dry, or serve on small cream saucers in the usual way.

Remarks.—Flavored Ice Creams are made by mixing "Cream for Icing," with half its weight of mashed or preserved fruit, previously rubbed through a clean hair sieve, or when the flavor depends on the juice of fruit, or an essential oil, by adding a sufficient quantity of such substance. Thus, Raspberry and Strawberry Creams are made according to the former method; Lemon, Orange, and Almond Ice Creams are made by the latter. In the same way any other article besides cream may be frozen.

Ice Cream, Cheap.

For six quarts of Milk, take half a pound of Corn Starch; first dissolve the Corn Starch in one quart of the Milk, then mix all together, and simmer a little over a slow fire, sweeten and flavor to taste, and freeze in the same manner as above.

Jellies Without Fruit.

Take one pint of Water, to which add Powdered Alum one-quarter ounce and boil a minute or two; then add White Sugar four pounds, and continue the boiling until the Sugar is dissolved. Take from the fire and strain while hot, allow it to cool, then add of any flavor you desire half an ounce of Vanilla, Strawberry, Lemon, or any other; the Jelly must also be colored according to the fruit you wish to imitate. This will make a Jelly so much like that made from fruit that it is difficult to distinguish them, and answers very well when fruit cannot be obtained.

Jelly, Cranberry or Quince.

Pare, quarter and core the Quinces, put them in a saucepan with enough water to cover them, let them boil five minutes, put in a bag and let drain until the next day; to every pint of Juice take one pound of Sugar and boil from fifteen to twenty minutes. Apple Jelly is made in the same way.

Remarks.—If wanted very transparent, the Jelly, after the fat is removed, should be gently warmed and well beaten with the white of an Egg and the seasoning, after which it must be brought to a boil for a minute or two.

Sprinkle Mushroom flaps gathered in September with common Salt, stir them occasionally for two or three days, then lightly squeeze out the juice, and add to each gallon, Bruised Cloves and Mustard Seed, of each half an ounce; Bruised Allspice, Black Pepper, and Ginger, of each one ounce; gently heat to the boiling point in a covered vessel, macerate for fourteen days and strain; should it exhibit any indications of change in a few weeks bring it again to the boiling point, and add a little more Spice.

Oyster Ketchup.

Pulp the Oysters, and to each pint add Sherry Wine or very strong Stock Ale one pint, Salt one ounce, Mace one-quarter ounce, Black Pepper one drachm; boil ten minutes, strain, cool, and bottle, and to each bottle add a spoonful or two of Brandy. Cockle and Mussel Ketchup are made in the same way; a fine flavor for sauces when oysters are out of season.

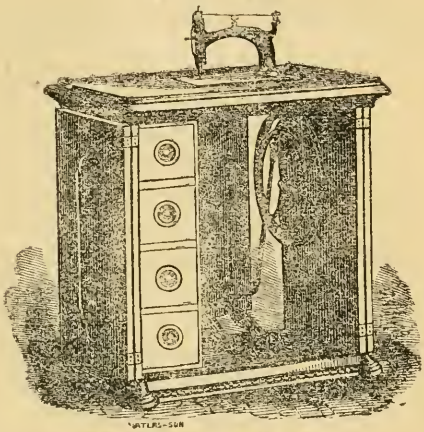

Tomato Ketchup.

Prepared in a similar manner to Mushroom Ketchup, except that a little Wine Vinegar is added.

Walnut Ketchup.

Expressed Juice of Young Walnuts when tender one gallon, boil, skim, and add Anchovies two pounds; Shallot one pound, Cloves and Mace of each one ounce, and one Cloe of Garlic sliced; simmer in a covered vessel for fifteen minutes, strain, cool, and bottle, adding a little Fresh Spice and Salt to each bottle as required; will keep in a cool place for twenty years—very fine.

RHEUMATISM

Is a constitutional affection, attended with a peculiar irritation or inflammation, to which all parts of the system are liable. Rheumatism may be divided according to its seat, or its grade of excitement, thus the following four varieties may be recognized: 1. The Acute, in which violent local inflammation is attended with considerable constitutional disturbance or fever. 2. The Subacute, in which the inflammation is less violent, and there is little or no fever. 3. The Chronic, characterized by long duration, and the lowest grade of inflammatory action. 4. The Nervous, in which there is neither inflammation nor fever, the disease existing exclusively in irritation, and that directed especially to the nervous tissue. Having taken a view of the different forms of Rheumatism, we should next consider its nature. The opinion at one time prevalent that this disease was dependent on a peculiar offending matter pervading the system must be looked on as purely speculative. Another notion is, that the disease is nothing more than ordinary inflammation. But the truth is that the disease is not necessarily inflammatory, but is often purely nervous, and no other explanation of its nature is admissible which does not take this fact into consideration. (Wood's practice, vol. 1, fol. 562.) The above proves that Rheumatism is often nervous and can be reached by the application of local remedies such as rubefacient and anodyne liniments, of which BRILL'S PAIN ERADICATOR is the best and most effectual. Flannel, carded wool, or cotton moistened with it and covered over the part affected, has proven very successful. General treatment, such as active purging, refrigerant diaphoretics, warm baths, &c., often become necessary in severe cases. Where there is great excitement and violent pain, ten or fifteen drops of PAIN ERADICATOR, diluted with water, may be given every two hours, until rest or sleep is produced.
